Georgia Dome Comes Down

Today the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, Georgia, came down! Why do I note this? Because in 1996 Yahweh led me to that very dome to warn the pastors who were gathering there that they would be judged and that the dome would come down upon them. Of course that did not happen; but there was and is no question that the Father sent me there to speak this. I cannot here go into all that occurred at that event, but you can read about it by clicking here. It is most interesting and profound, and was undeniably intercessorial. In fact, it had a dramatic affect on my life and what I teach, and unfortunately marked the beginning of the end of my family.

The event was under the auspices of Promise Keepers, a short-lived ministry whose purpose was to strengthen the spiritual walk of men. And this event was the first, and maybe the only, meeting exclusively for pastors. It was titled "Fan Into Flame." (Frankly, that speaks of purification and is what we need right now in the church.)

The very fact that I was able to go and even do this was divinely planned. And what took place while I was there was clearly the work of the Father. Again, read the linked writing about this. But in short, my oldest daughter, Christi, and I went there and I stood outside of the dome and warned the incoming pastors that Yahweh was going to judge them, and I fully anticipated that they would all suffer death. That may sound extreme or excessive, but I had no other choice than to proclaim it. The linked writing is titled "Jonah Goes To Georgia," and when you read it you will understand this comparison to Jonah. And as with Jonah, instead of judgment, Yahweh had mercy. It was from that point on that I learned that He would have mercy on pastors. But when I awoke this morning, I was amazed to watch the implosion of none other than the Georgia Dome!

Today the Georgia Dome did come down, just as Christianity will indeed come down, and just as the tree of Nebuchadnezzar did come down (Daniel 4:10f); but the difference in the resulting fate of that dome today was that no one perished. And such is the fate of Christianity. It does come down, but Yahweh will spare their lives.

I must say that now twenty-one years later, that which I was sent to proclaim in Atlanta did today come to pass, and is rather hopeful and encouraging. And the marvel is that the dome was only twenty-five years old. And yes, it came down suddenly—collapsing in a mere fifteen seconds! Watch it here.

My hope is that what took place today—when clearly I was sent there in 1996 to proclaim—is spiritually going to take place now. Promise Keepers did not last, but the Father has kept me and I am here hopefully to proclaim to all men what He is doing in the church and for all mankind. The Spirit came upon me in 1994, and two years later I went to the Georgia Dome. Now we are at the close of 2017 and going into 2018, and if the Spirit comes upon me/us now, there will be another two-year period—the concluding work of the covenant with the many.

I am reminded here of the words of Yahweh regarding the Elijah: “Behold, I am going to send My messenger, and he will clear the way before Me. And the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to His temple. And the messenger of the covenant (Elijah), in whom you delight, behold, he is coming,” says Yahweh of hosts”(Malachi 3:1). That dome fell in a mere fifteen seconds, and I pray that the Elijah Bride will suddenly begin as well.

Blessings,

Gary
